Jesus does not condemn the woman caught in adultery. John 8:1-11

We are just one week away from the Holy Week and away from our celebration of God's love shown in the passion, death and resurrection of Jesus.

For us Christians this season of Lent is a time of special grace in which we experience the presence of a personal God who cares and loves us. Our response is to transform ourselves and live according to his will. We want to do something new and come to him in obedience and freedom. Before him we acknowledge our weakness and we know that he is the one who supports us and builds with us new relationship. We ought to change our lives during Lent and come closer to him. Therefore the Church calls this season as a joyful time, because it is our preparation for the future joy of Easter that approaches us bringing his blessings, mercy and forgiveness. As we approach to the end of our Lenten season, we are reminded of our last opportunity to cooperate with God's graces and his benevolent love. He invites us to enter deep into his mystery and look for his unlimited love. We have the Gospel of today telling us of the woman caught in the act of adultery. He protects her and forgives her totally not before asking her to reform her life. Certainly she would choose to be his follower for through forgiveness he brought divine love in her. In the Word of God today, we heard the divine message that God makes all things new. Jesus gives us a basic command that helps us to identify if we are on our way. To reach closer to him we must persevere in our faith. Jesus said to the woman as he tells us: "Go your way, and from now on do not sin again." Once a person is touched by God and once he has received that divine command he cannot remain the same. That was the experience of Moses, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Peter, Paul and several others who came into close contact with him and remained persons attached to Jesus. Therefore Peter in his letter tells us "We are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, God's own people, in order that we may proclaim the mighty acts of Him who called us out of darkness into His marvellous light." Therefore he says that we should conduct ourselves honourably among the non-believers, so that, though they malign us as evildoers, they may see our honourable deeds and glorify God when He comes to judge. In other words the lesson we carry home is that we have to be the living examples of Christ in the world.

1. In loving memory of Alan D.Villanueva on his 7th death anniversary. Offered by Dad, Mom, AJ, Kristin and Damian.
2. Dearest Papa Diniz. Remembering you on your birthday. We miss you and love you. From your grand-children.
3. In memory of Carmel Shim. May he rest in peace. Offered by Carlton and Ethlyn Shim.

Let us pray!

For those who are sick members of our parish and those who love and minister to them.
